TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 9.—[illegible] Oury, democratic congressman, and M. B. Horton, supt. of public instruction, democrat, are elected by about seven hundred and fifty majority. Both branches of the legislature are democratic by a large majority.

TUCSON, Nov. 9.—Election returns from all precincts elect Paul, sheriff, and McElroy, treasurer, against Leatherwood. Republicans elect out of 6 representatives [illegible] for the territorial council and elect 2 out of 3 supervisors. The legislature is democratic in both branches. The railroad threw its whole strength against the democratic ticket.

Tombstone—Oury, democrat, for congress, has a majority in this county of 301.

Extent of the Victory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The extent of the democratic victory is not yet told. Cleveland's majority in the state will reach the enormous total of a hundred and ninety thousand, utterly unprecedented in the history of the country. Counties that never went democratic since the republican party was organized, now have gone heavily for Cleveland. Among them are the following: Broome, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chenango, Cayuga, Herkimer, Jefferson, Madison, Oneida, Ontario, Oswego, Otsego, Saratoga, Steuben, [illegible], Tioga, Tompkins, Warren and Wyoming. Out of sixty counties the republicans carry [illegible]. But there is something behind this, for notwithstanding Cleveland's great majority he has not received as many votes as Hancock had in 1880, when the latter was beaten by 21,001. The fact is, republicans either stayed at home or voted for Cleveland. The results to the administration is everywhere considered complete and terrible.

Status of the 48th Congress.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Times gives the following summary: In the 48th congress the democrats will control the house of representatives by a majority of 71, the figures being, republicans 127, democrats 198. The state will be represented in the next congress by 21 democrats and 13 republicans, a democratic gain of 8. The assembly will consist of 85 democrats and 43 republicans, thus giving the democrats a majority of 42 in the lower house. The senate stands 17 democrats to 17 republicans. The Times adds: The tidal wave has reached the crests of the Rocky Mountains and Sierra Nevada districts. The states of Colorado, California and Nevada have changed their voting politics with a grand rush. Nevada and Colorado are republican states so far as their governors represent the political complexion of the people. In each of the states the contest is close, but for all political purposes both may be conceded to the democrats by a small majority, and one democratic congressman is elected from each state. The revolution in California is more marked. The present republican governor was elected by a plurality of more than 20,000; there being three candidates in the field. The sweep is a clean and effective.

Slightly Mixed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Tribune says: In the midst of the ecstasies of delight inspired by the election of Cleveland, democrats of the metropolis find themselves confronted with the most perplexing puzzle of modern times. It is all about a coroner. William H. Kennedy was elected to that office Tuesday. To-day it is found that there are five gentlemen answering to this name residing in the city, with several wards to hear from, two at least of whom lay claim to the office and propose to have it or have the reason why satisfactorily explained to them. One of the contestants is a retailer of beverages and the other an undertaker.

Bulldozing Practiced.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 9.—General James R. Chalmers, independent democratic candidate for congress in the second Mississippi district, opposing V. H. Manning, the democratic nominee, is in the city. In an interview he stated that bulldozing was practiced in Tallahatchie county where an election was being held under the pretense of fear of smallpox, which deprived him of 500 votes, and one place in DeSoto county, where the judges refused to hold an election. [illegible] Notwithstanding all these he claims the election by 167 majority.

JOBS IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Various Style of Gobbling and Committee Work—The Biennial Raid on the Treasury.

SALEM, Nov. 8, 1882.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Soon after the beginning of the late session of the legislature an Oregonian correspondent referred to the large fees received by the clerk of the supreme court, amounting to more than the salaries of two of the judges of that court, and the additional pay of five dollars per day drawn from the state treasury and drawn into that from the pockets of the people, and predicted that a legislature composed mostly of farmers who raised wheat for 75 cents a bushel would not keep off to such practices. The result shows he knew what he was talking about. A bill was introduced into the senate to do this thing and referred to some committee (the Library, I believe) and never reported.

A bill making but a moderate reduction of the fees of clerks and sheriffs of the several counties came near being lost, and was saved, if that can be called saved, at the last by providing it should not go into effect until after the end of two years. Several years ago such a bill was passed, and at the next legislature the clerks got it repealed before it ever went into effect. Not unlikely they will do the same with this. It would do no harm to have a law reducing compensation apply to officers already elected, but the bill to pay salaries to the mayor and councilmen of this city went into effect immediately though they were elected to serve without salaries.

A bill to tax or license foreign insurance, express, banking and all foreign companies was easily defeated by those companies, who have always been too powerful for the legislature, and thus have always escaped paying any taxes. In his last message, Gov. Thayer referred to this subject as follows:

"I desire to call your attention especially to certain kinds of business that have been carried on in the state for a long time by foreign parties, who have been under no legal obligation to contribute a due proportion of the expenses of its government.

"I refer to foreign express, banking and insurance companies. They have been engaged in very worthy enterprises, and the law of comity demands that they should be permitted to prosecute their respective kinds of business within the jurisdiction of the state without oppression or unjust discrimination, and that they receive the full protection of its laws; but comity does not exempt them from the general burthen which is occasioned by the administration and maintenance of those laws. That would be unjust to our own citizens.

"Chapter 24, miscellaneous laws of the state, provides that every foreign corporation, before engaging in the business of fire or marine insurance, or express or brokerage, shall deposit with the state treasurer the sum of $50,000 in interest bearing bonds of the United States, or bonds of this state of Oregon, to be kept as a security for claims against such corporation; and that the corporation or association shall pay taxes upon such deposit, within the county where deposited, in the same manner and to the same extent as an individual, and that the deposit shall be held liable therefor.

"This statute would afford a remedy in part in the cases referred to, but the agents of the said corporations have actually made tax deposits in United States bonds, which, not being taxable under state authority, the provisions therein subjecting them to taxation are rendered nugatory.

"A change of these provisions could be made so as to remove the difficulty in the way of the taxation of the deposits, or, the corporations and foreign companies could be required to pay a sum in gross by way of license, as a condition upon which they might be permitted to carry on business in the state. A reasonable regulation in that respect would only be just and equitable.

"It will, however, require firmness on your part to carry it out. Whenever a measure of this kind is introduced there will doubtless be swarms of agents of those various companies gathered here, and employ all their blandishments to defeat it; but advances of that kind should never be permitted to thwart honest legislation."

It never should have been, but it was. And I predict that it will be the same with future legislatures, until finally some day in the future some honest, fearless fellow being in the legislature will represent and resolve that those companies shall pay their fair proportion of the taxes like the people of other states, and will know the reason why they have not been made to do it.

The general appropriation bill, which is expected to contain several objects of general interest for the ensuing two years, was by this legislature made a regular omnibus bill and loaded with clerks' pay and bogus claims [illegible] so many [illegible] thrown [illegible] upon which have haunted every legislature from the time when the knowledge of some but the oldest inhabitants runs to the contrary were saddled upon it and carried through. The black sheep and other line donations are expensive. But the biggest and worst job of rare character [illegible] onto that bill was the $1600 for S. J. A. Reed, of Salem. During the civil war the office of adjutant general was created with a salary, $2000 a year and Mr. Reed appointed to the office for some two years, when it was abolished. There was never much of anything to do in the office, except to draw the salary, and Reed attended regularly and faithfully to that one duty. Now after the lapse of twenty years he discovers he is [illegible] up a claim for $1600 on the ground that at $400 a year was not sufficient to support his family, and he got put into the general appropriation bill by the committee of ways and means. The house struck it out, but the senate refused to concur, and the house receded and it passed. Reed had for years owed the state about $2000 borrowed from one of the school funds, unsecured and unsatisfied. The legislature made no provision for deducting this from his claim to collect it, but it is reported that the state treasurer will hold it leaving only about $1000 to go to Mr. Reed. The next general appropriation bill may award him the other $700 which this inexorable treasurer applied on his school fund debt.

The sum of $6000 was appropriated for the so-called blind school. For whose benefit this job was, has not yet transpired. But that it was a job in the interest of somebody with two good eyes, there is no doubt. The school was always more or less a fraud upon the state, and was not much less than a means by which several people who were not blind made a living, and a less number who were blind boarded at the expense of the state. The Thayer administration, on coming into office, finding the state of things, discontinued the school, there being, I have been told, but three pupils in it. One of them 30 or more years old and worth $6,000. He was simply boarding at the expense of the state and made no pretense of being taught. There are not enough blind in the state who care for or will attend a school to permit one of any value to be conducted here, and if the school board makes any use of that appropriation they should employ it in sending any indigent blind children the state contains to the school of some state where they can be taught something, and where there are enough of them to enable the state to keep a school of that character.

During the last few years a new steal has grown up in our legislatures. Committees are appointed for some useful subjects, and for all conceivable ones. The latter have nothing to do, a [illegible] formerly they did it, and no harm resulted. But of late the crowd of applicants for places the swarm at the capital with the meeting of the legislature, have got themselves made clerks of these committees, and drawn pay for the whole forty days. An certain it is that some of these committees have been unappointed for no other reason than to make places for the clerks, the expectant clerk putting in the resolution for the committee, and getting it adopted. Not unfrequently the said clerk then does here that some person is interested in having a favored report from the committee and strikes that person for a "squeeze," the payment or withholding of which determines the character of the report, the writing of which is the clerk's sole duty, for which he is paid three or five dollars per day for forty days, and whatever he can extort from parties concerned in his report.

There are many other and kindred matters which a forty days' residence at the capital brought to my attention, but this letter is already long and I must leave them for another, or others, if I have inclination and time to write, and you room to publish.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY ELECTION.

OLYMPIA, Nov. 8.—The vote of this county [illegible] [illegible] Burke, receiving 5[illegible] [illegible] Following was the vote for county and precinct officers: Prosecuting attorney, [illegible], rep, [illegible]; McFadden, dem, 435; joint, [illegible] Ward, [illegible] Hale, dem, [illegible]; representatives, Phillips, rep, 375, Tuggin, dem, 430; auditor, Phillips, rep, 386; Moore, dem, 411; sheriff, Billings, rep, 416; Roth, dem, 392; treasurer, Crosby, rep, [illegible]; Mounts, dem, [illegible]; assessor, Moore, rep, 417; [illegible], dem, [illegible]; school superintendent, Thompson, rep, 390; Mrs. P. C. Hale, dem, 405; county commissioners, first district, [illegible], rep, 32[illegible]; Dobbin, dem, 47[illegible]; county commissioner, third district, Gibson, rep, [illegible]; Yantis, dem, [illegible]; probate judge, Reed, Jr., rep, 40[illegible]; Haney, [illegible]; surveyor, F. W. Brown, [illegible]; Justices, W. F. Keady and J. [illegible] Sparks, constable, [illegible] Brown. Considerable surprise was evinced on both sides at the result of the election, and more especially at the defeat of Mr. Phillips for the office of auditor, a position which he has filled satisfactorily for years. The result of the vote for prosecuting attorney will not probably be known for some days, as there are six other counties to be heard from.

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—As far as heard from, Brents is over 400 ahead on the sound and this majority will be increased by further returns. In this county there was much scratching, the result being that the democrats get away with four of the offices, including two seats in the legislature. The independent republicans have four also, including one seat in the legislature, while the straight republicans elect one legislator and 12 county officers. Incomplete returns give Brents 53 majority in Jefferson county, 160 in Whatcom, 200 in King, 150 in Kitsap and 110 in Thurston.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 9.—Clarke county gives Brents 150 majority, Ballard, 350 for prosecuting attorney, Harper 300, Landrum 300 and Shaw [illegible] for the legislature. The people's ticket was elected through by 200 or 400 majority. Chas. Brown, for auditor, Fred. Blitz, treasurer, Frank Norton, sheriff, Wm. [illegible], probate judge, J. H. Fletcher, assessor, A. McAndrew, surveyor, J. H. Alexander and G. A. McClellan, county commissioners, were elected.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 9.—The vote in this city was 319 for Brents and 249 for Burke.

Waitsburg gave Brents 132 and Burke 98.

Brents's majority in Walla Walla county is about twenty. The democrats elect one, or perhaps two, of the legislature.

DAYTON, Nov. 9.—Columbia county gives probably 200 for Burke. County is probably democratic except for joint representative and one commissioner and perhaps treasurer and assessor. Comparatively little interest is manifested except by candidates, who are very busy.

POMEROY, Nov. 9.—The election passed off quietly. Pomeroy precinct gives the following majorities: Territorial—Brents 23, McPherson 3, O'Brien 42, Smith [illegible], Hopkins 51. May, republican over Ellison, democrat, for councilman, 31; Spark, [illegible], republican, over Eaton, democrat, 6; Rutherford, democrat, over George, republican, for prosecuting attorney 48. On the county ticket the vote for representative was Clark, republican, 26, Ledgerwood, democrat, 27. Pataha City precinct gives Clark 11, Ledgerwood 20. Brents precinct gives Brents 36, Burke 63, Spaulding 33, Eaton 35, [illegible] 30, Clark 22, Ledgerwood 37. Columbia county precinct gives Brents 6, Burke 25, Clark 6, Ledgerwood 15. The returns are not all in.

PORT TOWNSEND, Nov. 9.—At the general election here yesterday 749 votes were polled at this poll. Brents, republican, for delegate, received 390 votes, Burke, democrat, 172; Bradshaw, republican, for prosecuting attorney, 221. The [illegible] D. W. Smith and a few [illegible] to the democrats resulted in this county only in disaster to that party. Mr. Smith being candidate for probate judge by nearly 200 votes and Brents having a handsome majority in the county which at the last election gave Burke, the democratic candidate, a majority. For joint councilman Estes, republican, received 115 votes and McReavy, democrat, 99. For joint representative, Calvin, republican, received 119 and Kuhn, democrat, 121. At other precincts, as far as heard from, Brents' majority was 31, which will probably be increased when the remainder of the returns come in.

The joint representative and joint councilman on the republican ticket also received majorities. With the exception of sheriff and one [illegible] the entire republican ticket is elected. Enthusiastic meetings were held just before the election in Chimacum and Port Discovery, which were addressed by Dr. T. T. Minor and others, and contributed much to the republican success.

A much larger vote was cast in this county than at any preceding election. In Kitsap county the vote was: at Port Madison, 31; Brents 17, Burke 21, Bradshaw 21, White 11. Port Blakely, 168 votes: Brents 112, Burke 23, Bradshaw 102. The county ticket is solid republican. Port [illegible] gives a large majority for Brents and Bradshaw. Island and Clallam counties not yet heard from.

Idaho.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 9.—Nez Perce county, Northern Idaho, gives Singiser, republican candidate for delegate, 100 majority, which shows him, as a Boise City dispatch places the democratic [illegible] candidate, Ainslie, majority at 500.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S CONCERT.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

The concert to be given on Sunday next at Masonic Hall by the very best musical talent in this city will be in every sense what I have advertised it, "sacred" in its character, the programme comprising among its numbers a string quartette:

A—The seven last words of our Redeemer Jesus Christ.

B—Theme and variations by Haydn. An overture by Mendelssohn, part of which may be heard sung in our churches any Sunday, and the Austrian hymn, [illegible] thing of that are spoken [illegible] of our Lord. Also a fantasie from Abt's "Sleep well, sweet angel."

The whole programme being in fact of such a character that the strictest churchgoer could not hesitate to listen to on the Lord's day, and from which the general public should know that the lessee of the building in which I propose giving this sacred concert for the edification of many who have no other evening in the week which they can devote to such enjoyment, would not rent their hall for such purpose, as is stated in the anonymous card published in the Evening Telegram.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 10, 1882.

THE STRENGTH OF A PARTY.

Moral courage is the life of a political party. No better illustration of such courage is [illegible] than when a party deliberately chooses defeat rather than gain a triumph which [illegible] unworthy ends. It is a habit of the republicans of the country to administer chastisement to their own party whenever they think it deserves it. They do not place party success above all other objects. With them party is a means rather than end. They have never been in the habit of supporting it, right or wrong. The discipline they have so often administered to those who have presumed on the fidelity of the republican masses as a means of carrying their own selfish and unworthy objects to success, has as often saved the party from annihilation. In the moral courage thus evinced, through which bad men and bad objects are beaten down before the life of the party is sapped and its moral forces extinguished, lies the secret of its frequent renewals of strength. Among its opponents are shallow observers who think that these reverses which it often meets, say rather which it deliberately invites, promise its speedy extinction. On the contrary they are always the source to it of renewed life. The same causes which have led to the present defeats dragged the party down some years ago, till its adversaries thought its case utterly hopeless. Yet it amazed them with the energy and vigor with which it came up to succeeding contests, culminating in the grand effort of 1880, by which the democratic party, then counting on victory as it now anticipates victory for '84, was completely overthrown. In 1862 the republican party lost the state elections as it has lost them now, only to triumph in '64. In '66 and '67 it met defeats which its opponents joyfully believed had destroyed all possibility of its continued ascendency; and yet in '68 its victory was immense. In 1874 it lost everything, only to come up in '76 with a strength that met an aggressive opposition at all points and triumphed over it. In 1878 the elections were once more against it; there was a tremendous contest within itself, caused by the efforts of a combination of bosses to force their rule upon it, which culminated in the national convention of '80 in a struggle that was hailed by its enemies as a sure sign of its dismemberment and destruction. Is it forgotten what followed? Never since 1860 had the republican party been inspired by the moral force which moved it in the Garfield campaign; never had it been so solid and invincible. The reason was simple enough. It had rebuked bad methods; it had taken the control of the party out of the hands of a selfish faction; it had set the bosses aside, broken the machine and made victory easy by making it right to contend for victory.

What the party has done in these last elections is directly in the line of what it did in the Chicago convention of 1880. Now as then, though by a different method, it has delivered itself from the domination of a faction of professional politicians, and shown that it puts political effort on higher ground than that of a mere contest for personal triumph and official power. The history of parties shows that they can be strong only in large purposes. To keep their party to purposes of this character, to prevent it from falling under the control of petty men, who work for selfish objects by petty and debasing methods, is the inspiration of the repeated revolts of the republican party against "the machine."

Unfortunately for the democratic party it has not enough of this spirit of independence. It has too many men who think party the be-all and end-all of political effort. They cannot make up their minds to criticise their party, or to oppose in it by active effort things which they feel to be objectionable, and which, though they know ought not to be approved, yet they cannot muster courage to condemn. In consequence the party suffers. Good men are alienated from it. Take for illustration a leaf from its recent history in this state. The Grover-Chadwick administration was notoriously prodigal, unworthy and corrupt. It was carried on to advance the political interests of its members, and everything in the public service was employed in that direction. The "organized offices" became a phrase of reproach and disgrace. Yet there was no protest in the party against the Grover-Chadwick machine, at least no protest general enough to redeem the party from the blight of its control. The bosses remained in power, till their offense grew so rank that the utter overthrow of the party became the consequence of the want of democratic independence. No party can live except by the constant employment of the critical spirit within it. The reverses that come from exercise of this independence, from adherence to the requirements of moral courage, are not defeats. The party that deals rigorously and severely with abuses perpetrated by its managers and in its name, thereby organizes victory. This great secret of republican success the democratic party has not found out; or, if it has found it out, it lacks the moral courage to apply it to itself.

Nothing is more evident than the fact that those recent elections are not democratic triumphs. They show no increase of democratic strength. On the contrary, the democratic vote is now everywhere smaller than the vote received by General Hancock two years ago. Republicans have not voted, because they had resolved to show their disapproval of the departure, under the present administration, from the principles and purposes they had in view when they elected James A. Garfield. Two years hence those short-sighted democratic organs which are now singing paeans in anticipation of victory in the presidential election will again be amazed to see the republican party coming with its renewed and consolidated power into the political field, to sweep away all opposition.

A correspondent of the Memphis Avalanche presents some interesting items showing the growth of the south in general, and Arkansas in particular, in the last decade. It is stated that the population of Arkansas increased from 484,000 in 1870 to 802,000 in 1880—nearly 70 per cent. Her cotton production increased from 248,000 bales in 1870 to 607,000 bales in 1880, or more than 140 per cent. Texas has increased in equal ratio; no other southern state half as much. Arkansas and Texas produced one-tenth of the cotton crop in 1870. They produced more than one-fourth of the crop in 1880—the largest crop ever made.

Brevet Major General Arnold, whose death at New York was announced yesterday, in 1853 was attached to the western division of the Northern Pacific railroad survey, in charge of Governor Stevens, and accompanied the expedition to the Rocky mountains. In the spring of 1854 he relieved Captain (now General) McClellan in the constructing of a military road from Fort Steilacoom to Fort Walla Walla, crossing the Cascade mountains, a distance of 234 miles. After the completion of this work he was appointed aide-de-camp to General Wool in April, 1855, on whose staff he served until the breaking out of the war.

Local differences of various kinds among the republicans of Washington territory appear to have made the legislature democratic. That Brents is elected by a large majority the only point to be determined now is just how large.

Figures furnished by the railroad companies show that 261,000 persons came to Philadelphia by rail to attend the Penn bi-centennial. It is estimated that 75,000 more came by riverboats and private conveyance.

A republican speaker in Massachusetts said, the Butler platform, in substance, was: "No labor between meals; total abstinence between drinks." That platform couldn't fail to win.

AN OLD STORY.

An observing writer has remarked as an apparent condition of national life that a great people should have periodic health scares. Now the alarm about health affects one class and now another, and sometimes a wave of alarm sweeps over an entire nation. Once in a way these outbursts are of a serious nature and lead to endless extravagances, but as a rule they are simply amusing. Singular as the fact may seem, they generally attend an increasing knowledge. It is just in proportion as a people become acquainted with its needs, with the laws and requirements of nature and of society, that they are frequent or infrequent. When the generation now in its prime was voting, boys were credited with stomachs of leather and constitutions of iron. They were popularly supposed to be equal to the digestion of food that a well-disposed ostrich would hesitate to bolt, and to be impervious to wet or cold. But nowadays we hear a great deal about the degeneracy of our youth. We are gravely told that something or the other, a combination of causes perhaps, has sapped the constitution of the American race, and that young America is by no means the hearty, sturdy, fit-for-all-weather youth that he was a generation ago. The reason for this is not far to seek. Much more attention is being paid now to the way youth are clad, to calisthenics, sanitation and the like, than used to be the case. Vast knowledge has been acquired about these things. But knowledge descends to the many in driblets. It trickles, as it were, in drops from the brain reservoirs in which it is stored, and it is only the drops that the masses know about. One falls on them and they think themselves swimming in an ocean of lore.

So it is in this case. People have come to appreciate that to properly develop men boys must be properly clothed and exercised. Just now the small boy is the object of much solicitude. And in the midst of it all, when fathers go to bed to dream of dumb bells, Indian clubs, gymnastics and the like, and mothers take care that their daughters shall go through a course of skating-rink instruction and exercises on parallel bars, in short, when calisthenics is the rage of the hour, some puny, underfed street boys who applied for enlistment in the navy are rejected as physically unfit for the service, and at once there is set up a cry that our boys are degenerating. It is very ridiculous. The small boy is a better boy than he ever was in the history of America—more sensibly clothed (and that is a great item), more systematically exercised, better muscled, deeper chested, and withal, better bred. We are advancing rapidly in this respect, and as outdoor sports grow in favor we shall continue to advance. Bicycles, gymnasts, shooting matches, swimming schools, base ball and cricket have given us a finer set of growing youth than we ever had before, and the fact that the sons of drunken or poverty-stricken parents were too weak to become sailors about as much affects this truth as the presence of a few stunted saplings in a plantation of thriving young trees would establish the unsoundness of the entire growth. The scare-mongers know just enough to get alarmed, not enough to know when to generalize and when to discriminate. The wail over the degeneracy of youth reaches back to the time of Homer, who makes old Nestor tell how powerful young men were in his day of strength, but how puny the later generations whom he saw in his old age. No doubt the story would go back further still if there were a literature older than the father of fable and song.

NEW YORK'S NEW CORONER.

By reference to this morning's dispatches it will be seen that the democrats in New York City have elected Wm. H. Kennedy for coroner. As a simple statement this is not particularly alarming, but when it is known that there are five Wm. H. Kennedys in the city, all of whom have been "treating" their friends for a month past on the strength of the nomination, and two of whom propose to have the office or know the reason why, the situation becomes indeed startling. This state of affairs grew out of the combination of the three democratic factions in the city, Tammany hall, Irving hall and the county democracy. By mutual agreement each faction had the naming of certain offices and that of coroner fell to the lot of Tammany. Wm. H. Kennedy was nominated and the name handed over to the committee of the three factions appointed to notify candidates. Not one of this committee knew Wm. H. Kennedy or where to find him, and a city directory was consulted. Here they were for the moment puzzled by the five names, but remembering that Tammany had made the nomination, they promptly selected that Wm. H. Kennedy whose occupation was given as a vendor of liquors. The latter was duly notified and like a good democrat, "set 'em up" liberally to the boys. Then came the Tammany nominating committee and averred that it was not Wm. H. Kennedy, saloonist, but Wm. H. Kennedy, undertaker, who had been nominated. The ukase had gone forth, however, and both men worked nobly among their constituents and at the polls, their labors resulting in the election of Wm. H. Kennedy by a rousing majority. The office of coroner in New York city is a fat one and we hope Kennedy may get it.

In keeping our minds constantly fixed on the business and conditions of our immediate surroundings we are liable to cease to appreciate the country of which we are a part, and liable to underestimate the majesty of the advance of our republic. When, besides its natural growth, a nation can receive and absorb among its people a million of foreign men and women within a single year, and without a shock to its industries, and when the million merge with the people and their presence is scarcely felt except in the increased momentum which their labor gives; we may see the fact, but it is like looking upon the figures which inform us about the distance of the fixed stars—we read the figures, but do not comprehend the story which they tell. This year there will probably be constructed 12,000 miles of new railroads. This represents an expenditure of $400,000,000. The cotton, meat and wheat which will be sent away after all the mills have been supplied and all the people fed, will amount to as much more. In addition, what is equivalent to the creation and equipment of a new state has been accomplished. These figures are something stupendous, and they are increasing with constantly swelling ratio.

Among the republicans now most talked of for the presidency are Windom of Minnesota, Harrison of Indiana and Robert Lincoln of Illinois. Windom is a man of fair ability and honorable reputation; Harrison is popular and would be strengthened by his family traditions, and Lincoln has force of character and respectable talents, and inherits a mighty name. Either one of the three would unite the republicans of the whole country in a common effort, since neither has participated aggressively in any of the contests or the factions.

In New York the majority is so large as to make it ridiculous to talk about the result as due to democratic gains. Moreover Cleveland, though he has 190,000 majority, has fewer votes than Hancock received, when the state went heavily for Garfield. Of course there is no "democratic gain" about it. Every one can see the futility of claiming a democratic triumph in New York in '84 upon the results of this year.

Says Harper's Weekly: "It is a favorite cry of the machine when it wishes to whip voters who hesitate to ratify its rascality that the party is greater than any man and member of it." Voters seem to have applied this principle in another way than that intended by the engineers of the machine.

The Oregon and Washington Mortgage Savings Bank, Limited.

I HEREBY INTIMATE THAT, AS THE DUNDEE Mortgage Co., limited, refused upon the 12th day of December, 1881, to make and has not since made any new Mortgages or Loans in Oregon, on account, it is alleged, of the "tax law then in existence being prejudicial to its interests;" that I accordingly the next day, the 13th of December, 1881, accepted in its place and stead the business previously offered to me of the American Mortgage Co. of Scotland, Limited, with a capital of two millions of dollars, and I then tendered the Dundee company my resignation, which was not accepted. They then instructed me to continue to act for them in collecting their moneys and remitting the same to New York, which I have since done to the extent of $[illegible] for investment in other states, where they alleged the laws were more favorable to foreign capital; that they were aware I consented to act in that position temporarily, because they were doing no new business here, and, hence, their new business was of no value to me or any one. Furthermore, that I have, since the 13th of December, conducted the business of the American Mortgage Co. in Oregon, which has, since the retirement of said Dundee Mortgage Co., loaned, through me $[illegible] upon Mortgages in this state and the adjoining territories, to the annoyance of the said Dundee Mortgage company, whose object, as they stated to me in their official letters, was to compel the state of Oregon to amend its laws to suit their interests, which letters I shall publish if necessary; that recently the Dundee Directors proposed in Edinburgh to the Directors of the American Mortgage Co. that I should act as Joint Agent here for both (the latter company doing its business entirely, however, through their Dundee office), which the American Mortgage Co. flatly refused to do, preferring to treat with me as they have been doing hitherto, direct.

The Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings Bank of Oregon, and the American Mortgage Co. of Scotland, both of which I represent, will be glad to make loans upon Mortgages in Oregon and Washington territory at the office, 48 First street, upon reasonable terms.

If my veracity is doubted I would respectfully suggest your procuring Mr. Robertson's permission to publish, either this letter, as well as all the correspondence between myself and the Dundee companies upon the [illegible] causes which dictated my resignation, which will prove interesting reading to the public in Oregon and to the stockholders in Dundee, Scotland.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM REID.

Clearing House Statistics.

New York, Nov. 8.

Clearing house exchanges show the following gains and losses in business transactions in the principal cities this week over the corresponding week last year:

GAINS.

Philadelphia	1.3	Chicago	13.0
San Francisco	12.6	Cincinnati	[illegible].7
Pittsburg	21.7	St. Louis	12.8
New Orleans	5.1	Baltimore	[illegible]
Providence	26	Louisville	[illegible]
New Haven	28.[illegible]	Milwaukee	22.[illegible]
Memphis	1.6	Indianapolis	[illegible].0
New York	3	Cleveland	1.9
Boston	12.9	Hartford	1.[illegible]
Peoria	[illegible].5

Several of the small towns like Lowell, Syracuse and Worcester show gains.

The Public says of these figures: "The transactions for the last week are manifestly irregular. Manufacturing cities generally increase, while the principal lending cities are divided. The aggregate outside of New York is remarkably large, however, and there is no room to doubt that proportion of exchanges divided from legitimate is as great on the whole as it was last year. The fact that the change of prices is a little lower than a year ago should be taken into account. The volume of business measured in quantities transferred is nearly or quite up to the highest point touched."

PACIFIC NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

Mrs. [illegible] Nickling, of Eugene City, is teaching [illegible] public school at McMinnville.

Mrs. [illegible] Morris died at the residence of F. [illegible] Watt in Salem, at the [illegible] inst. She [illegible] years. The burial took place on the day following in the cemetery [illegible].

Mrs. M. S. Barbord, of Salem, was riding out Tuesday, when her horse took fright and she was thrown from the buggy. Some of her front teeth were knocked out and she was otherwise severely bruised.

Last week the Oregon City mills received 800 sacks of wheat from [illegible] wheat when cleaned at the mill had only 20 lbs. screenings and is the cleanest lot ever received from any warehouse in Oregon.

Oregon City Enterprise: Among the Indian curiosities which were unearthed where the new warehouse is being built are several mortars in fair condition but with holes in the bottom. Several pestles of very hard stone were also found that were broken. These were evidently from the graves of Indians, it being the custom to spoil such things on the death of their owner. Two very small mortars, commonly called spoons, were also found and are said to be the smallest in any collection in the state. An elongated hammer, perfect in shape, and made from a hard green stone, that was used for pulverizing [illegible] ries, was also found. Two pestles, one a foot long and the other nine and a half inches, are perfect and good specimens, also a stone as good as when made. A large stone kettle, 19½ inches long by 14 inches wide, 7 inches high and 4½ inches [illegible] depth, is in perfect preservation and as far as is known is the largest yet found in Oregon. But the greatest curiosity is a stone slab, 19x16 inches with a fairly even surface straight across the ends, but oval the other end, the sides and top being serrated with notches [illegible] deep. Some of the points on one side are gone but the other side is perfect.

Washington Territory.

The Cheney Sentinel reports that A. Lefever of Medical lake, a former resident of this county raised a beet weighing 19 pounds. He also raised corn of the average of 75 bushels to one acre, and has introduced several varieties of crop hitherto unknown to the county.

There were 642 ballots cast in north Walla Walla precinct and 572 in south Walla Walla, total 1214. Two years ago the total vote in the two precincts was 1318, or 104 more than the vote cast yesterday. The decreased vote is accounted for by the lack of interest taken in the election and the fact that a large number of railroad builders who are now in Montana voted here two years ago.

According to the Seattle Herald Messrs. Long & Birmingham, the cheese makers of White river, have earned for the product of their factory an enviable reputation. White river cheese commands the highest price in the territory, in Oregon, California and British Columbia. The factory has been a complete success—demonstrating practically the marked superiority of this county over other sections for the manufacture of cheese. The lease of these gentlemen expired on Tuesday last. They began operations just three years before. It seems doubtful whether they will continue the business, as the farmers do not think 21 per hundred pounds of milk sufficient to justify them in taking their milk to the factory. More can be made by making butter. They nearly all the calves are killed when they supply the factory. Nothing is left for fattening pigs, etc., and taking all together there is little question that the farmer is wise in keeping his own product at home.

THE ALBINA HOMESTEAD is situated next to Albina and between and fronting on both the extension of Fourth street, East Portland, and the Vancouver road. All the lots in Blocks 26, 27, 28, [illegible] and 30, are 50x120 feet with twenty-foot alleys through the blocks. All the other lots are 50x100 feet. The streets are wide and have all been cleared. The lots are high and level and can be very easily cleared.

We now offer for sale for a short time a limited number of these Lots and Blocks at very reasonable prices and on easy terms. THE ALBINA HOMESTEAD is unquestionably the best for investors and the most desirable place for homes now in the market. Its close proximity to the cities of Portland and East Portland, and to the heavy improvements now being carried out by the various companies under the direction of Mr. Villard—the Dry Docks, Elevators, Machine Shops and other works of these companies; its nearness also to the Albina Ferry, together with the proposed Multnomah Railway from [illegible] street Ferry, in E. Portland, and from Albina, will make this property very accessible from all parts of these cities. These advantages will necessarily attract a large population, and in the meantime make this the most popular and valuable suburban property in this vicinity, while in the near future it must furnish homes for the rapidly increasing population of Albina, and then its value will be at least five times what we now offer it for. The property and full information given to all who may apply to

Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease or sickness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH.

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the private Diseases bring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician to them from a sense of modesty, and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their entire system becomes corrupted. Their organization [illegible] and the hope of future happiness blasted, and death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
